DONAHUE SENDS LETTERS TO MERCHANTS ON URBAN RENEWAL

James P. Donahue, of the Wilmington Housing Authority, Wednesday morning sent a letter to the merchants in Wilmington Square, regarding his proposal to provide new buildings for the merchants, as a part of the Urban Renewal Project.

Donahue is proposing a meeting of the Merchants, at the Housing Authority office on Deming Way, on Sept. 10th., where the possible plans will be outlined.

The proposal, first outlined in last week's Town Crier, has met with a good response on the part of some of the merchants. James Franklin, Urban Renewal Director, last Thursday went up to Wilmington Square for a few minutes business, and was unable to leave for four hours, because of questions being put to him by Wilmington merchants.

Donahue had the first reply to his letter within three hours of its delivery.

The letter, as sent, read:

September 1, 1959

Dear Sirs:

For the past few months the Wilmington Housing Authority has been carrying forth detailed planning for an Urban Renewal Project in Wilmington Center.

The Wilmington Housing Authority is interested in providing to the merchants to be affected by Urban Renewal every opportunity for their participation in this community program.

As a Wilmington merchant, you perhaps have many questions on the opportunities for establishing shops and stores in the Renewal Area, in addition to numerous other questions related to such a program.

It must be understood the Housing Authority is not the developer of the land improved under Urban Renewal, merely the Local Agency handling the details of the program which includes the sale of the land to a private developer or developers.

As the local agency administering the Renewal program for the Town, The Wilmington Housing Authority wishes to present to the local merchants in the planned project area the opportunity to get together and discuss several plans and ideas that could be accomplished in obtaining the maximum benefit of the program.

The Wilmington Housing Authority suggests that you make plans to attend a meeting scheduled for September 10, 1959 in the Community Building at the Housing-for-the-Elderly Project, Deming Way, Wilmington, Mass., at 8:00 p.m. for an open discussion on 'Urban Renewal Business Opportunities'. If you plan to attend, notify the Housing Authority by mail or phone, telephone - OLiver 8 8531.

Looking forward to your attendance at this meeting and a prompt reply to this invitation, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
James P. Donahue,

Co-ordinator of Business Plans

GRAVEL WAR FLARES

Deputy Sheriffs of Middlesex County are looking for Stephen Hathaway, operator of the gravel pit off Salem Street, and another pit off Ballardvale Street. They seek to serve restraining orders on Hathaway for another pit, newly opened off Concord Street.

'The pressure is terrific' one of the Deputy Sheriff's remarked Wednesday noon time, as he sought the presence of the elusive man.

Three restraining orders were issued by the Superior Court, in Cambridge, Monday afternoon against Hathaway.

The restraining orders are answerable in Cambridge Court-house next Monday.

One of these was at the request of the Town of Wilmington, one at the request of the Town of North Reading, and the third at the request of the New England Power & Light Co., Donahue & Donahue, attorneys, of Lowell.

Wilmington and North Reading were working together, in the case, because of the question as to whether Hathaway was in one town or the other, in his gravel operations. The Town line is close to his pit, and furthermore the exact location of the line is in some doubt.

The restraining order issued for the New England Power is independent of the action of

AVCO AWARDED $36 MILLION AIR FORCE CONTRACT Second Prime Nose Cone Contract in Month

The US Air Force has awarded a prime contract, amounting to $36,655,000 to Avco's Research and Advanced Development in Wilmington. The announcement was made jointly yesterday by Maj. General Ben I. Funk, commander of the Air Material Command's Ballistic Missiles Center, and James R. Kerr, president of the Avco division. The award, second of its kind made to Avco within a month, calls for a program of basic research through prototype development of the re-entry vehicle (nose cone) for the Air Force Minuteman, this country's first solid-fuel intercontinental ballistic missile. The contract affirms an earlier letter contract which authorized the firm to commence work on this highest priority national defense

STILL UNPAID

Another summer has passed, and the D. B. Kelty Company of Lowell is still unpaid for the work they have done in the Wildwood School.

Kelty installed the boiler and fuel oil system. He did it according to specifications. The State School Building Inspector has certified this. But Kelty is unpaid, because the fuel oil which has to be used is a number 5 grade, and the specifications called for a number 6 grade.

As we say, it was not Kelty's fault. He is a high grade competent workman, a man of honor. It was not his fault that the specifications were so drawn up that the number 6 fuel oil could not be burned.

Neither is it any fault of the Town of Wilmington, but Mr. Kelty is not paid.

Meanwhile we can report that Kelty was called when it developed that the hot water for dish washing did not meet the specifications for heat. The law calls for a 180 degree temperature, and Sanitarian Pat Thibau found that the water being delivered was only 140 degrees.

Again the fault wasn't Kelty's. He had nothing to do with the hot water delivery. But he repaired the troubles and the school department is very happy with his work.

JOHN WILLIAM DURKEE

The town is just so much poorer, this week, with the death of John William "Bill" Durkee, of Salem Street.

Mr. Durkee was not the type of man who stood up to speak in Town Meeting, or who ran for public office. But he attended to his voting, and was present at most of the Town Meetings, sitting in one of the rear rows.

His mark in life was of a different sort. It was achieved by a quiet sense of duty - private charities of which none of his neighbors knew, and a sense of the commonweal when it came to his fellow man.

Bill Durkee was one of those who opened his door to refugee Hungarians, a few years ago.

Bill Durkee was a man who was the favorite "uncle" of little girls and boys in the neighborhood. He always had a few gum drops, or other candy for the children.

He was a quiet man. He will not be missed by the greater part of our people. But he was a gentleman, in every sense of the word, and the world is the poorer for his passing.

WE WONDER ABOUT THE GRAVEL LAW

Not too long ago our Legislature passed a law which made it a criminal offense to open a gravel pit in the Town of Wilmington. There was a considerable fanfare about the passage of the law. It was described as having "teeth".

Now the Town of North Reading and the Town of Wilmington has had to go to court to have restraining orders against a gravel pit operator, who is presumably operating on territory for which the Board of Appeals has denied a permit.

The exact location of the pit isn't certain, but the operator was quoted as saying that it was in Wilmington.

Yet our Police Department, and presumably our Selectmen, seem to have either overlooked the law, or to be loath to use it.

TOWN BEACH TO CLOSE

ON LABOR DAY

The Wilmington Town Beach, at Silver Lake, will close for the season on Labor Day. Head Lifeguard Bob Swanson and his assistants will then end the regular summer program.

All the playgrounds are now closed out for the season. Cookouts were enjoyed by all the youthful participants, thus ending an eight week activity under the direction of Joseph Beaton, which included games, music, reading, drama, and arts and crafts.

BRUISES AND CONTUSIONS

FOR BOY BICYCLIST

Robert Outridge, 11, of Cedar Street was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital, in the Fire Department ambulance Tuesday morning, to be treated for bruises and contusions, after having been involved in an accident with a truck, on Main Street, at 10:40 am.

Outridge, riding a bicycle, came into collision with a truck owned by the Harry Jenkins Transportation Co of Mattapan, and driven by P. L. Bennie, of Stoughton.

TOWN NOTES

A Hot August

We had 11 days in August of this year in which the temperature climbed to over 90 degrees - the hottest in years. It ended with a showery period, with a total rainfall of 1.19 inches in the week ending Wednesday morning.

Hulda

One of the nice things about weddings are the guests - one meets people from almost anywhere.

The Whitman-Reid wedding of a week ago is a case in point. Nancy Reid, the bride, had worked for Itek, which is one of the new scientific labs on Route 28, and her new husband is a Vice President of a research company in Woburn.

Many of the male guests were of the short-haired variety who habitually have a slide-rule sticking out of their jackets. The ladies, too, were of the same set, but it does not show as much in this case, bless them.

One of the ladies was a girl named Hulda, the bride of an Air Force colonel, who makes her home in Chelmsford. Hulda was born in Iceland, and learned her English through British accented teachers.

Then she learned the American variety of the English language in South Carolina.

It was a really charming accent, South Carolina superimposed on Oxford.

Better than Andover St

We had a look at the roadway in from Concord Street, to Steve Hathaway's latest gravel pit, over the weekend. It is nicely graded, and bulldozers were keeping it so.

Residents of Andover Street and Woburn Street should be jealous.

Chuck Dolan

There is many a slip between pen and paper, to make a new phrase.

Last week we asked one of our friends of the Wilmington Police Department for the details in the case where three boys were stealing cars - as was reported.

Our friend entirely forgot to mention Charles (Chuck) Dolan. Mr. Dolan didn't have anything to do with the case except to be the man who found out who the boys were. That, of course, wasn't important, or so it would seem.

The Baseball Machine

Bill Durkee was one of the men who worked for many years in Harriman's tannery, and after the tannery closed up he transferred to other tanneries. It was an occupation in which many of our "French" people were engaged - for Bill Durkee to most of those who knew him was a "Frenchman" - meaning that his folks had come from Nova Scotia.

But Bill Durkee was actually of English descent. His father Amos had the misfortune of losing his parents, up in Nova Scotia, and his father was adopted by a Babine family. It wasn't until many years had passed that Amos found out his name was Durkee, and had corrections made in his papers so that he could use the name to which he was born.

Bill lived in his father's house - and Bill had a secret project, of which he spoke but rarely. That was his "Baseball Machine".

We never saw it, but we know he had patented some or all of it. He was still working on it at the time of his death. He had great hopes for this machine, but he never got a cent of profit, so far as we know.

Sure To Rain

We have a friend who is a cynic, when it comes to repairs of Andover Street and Woburn Street.

He called us up last week to report that one of the subcontractors had got so disgusted that he sent down a truck load of gravel to fill holes on the street.

Then Saturday our friend called, and predicted a lot of rain in the next few days.

His observation was that Campanella & Cardi had sent up a road grader, to fix the streets, and that every time this has been done it rained for three days, and ruined all the work.

Our cynical friend was right. It rained quite heavily, as everyone knows, and Woburn St. at least, is just as bad as it ever was.

Cagy Sam, Umpire

Cagy Sam Ethier would rather play baseball than eat. At the moment, with his team securely in second place in the Softball League he has nothing to do, until the time comes for the play-offs.

So Cagy Sam filled in as an umpire, for the game between Weinberg's and Elia's Stingers last Saturday.

He just had to do something. Hot-Rodders

It seems that a number of people have spoken to us, during the past week, of 'Hot-Rodding' in Wilmington.

Youngsters are speeding on the new Interstate Route 93, just about dusk, we are told. It is probably about as safe a place as there is, at the moment, for such activities.

Then there is a bunch who go up on Concord Street, now nice and wide, about 11 pm and race down the street. They just make the one trip, and no one seems to know who they are, or when they are coming.

The one we get a chuckle from is an allegation that some of the boys are in the Youth Canteen. One person, informed us thusly, and told us that the Youth Canteen boys were 'Hot-Rodding' on Salem Street last Saturday evening.

But there was no meeting of the Youth Canteen last Saturday.

The Photo Mural

The Photo Mural, in the De Moulas Supermarket, has not, as of this writing, been mounted.

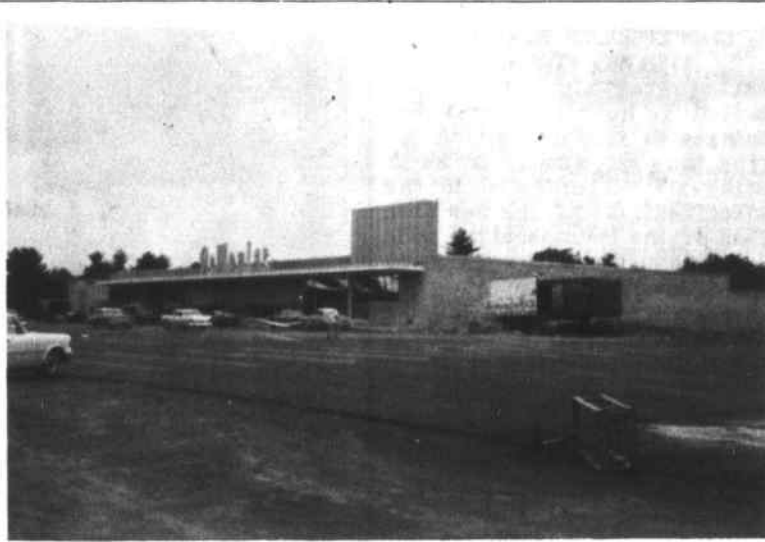

It is a huge picture of the Wilmington High School, five feet high and twelve feet long and is intended to be right opposite the entrance door.

It was taken by a Lowell photographer, two weeks ago, but so far he has had nothing but troubles, in getting it to look right. The trees lining the Common prevented him from getting a distance view, and he had to use a wide angle lens, from near-by - which may explain a part of his troubles.

grammed flight through space, successfully re-enters the earth's atmosphere and in wartime carries a thermonuclear warhead to its target.

Avco's task will particularly include ablation studies and the development of ablative materials which can 'cook away' without seriously affecting the structural design of this advanced nose cone. The Minuteman project also requires development of advanced materials for rocket engine nozzles.

Minuteman is a three-stage, land-based weapon system. Its solid-propellant rocket engines will achieve minimum speed of 15,000 nautical miles per hour and minimum range of 5,500 nautical miles. Specific data on its size and weight have not been released.

Gravel Pits (fr Fr Pg)

the two towns, and is presumed to refer to the digging at the former Van Steensburg pit, on Salem Street, where Hathaway now has a lake of about 10 acres in extent. The New England Power Co has high voltage transmission lines crossing this pit, and the hole dug by gravel operations is approaching some of the structural supports for the power line.

Hathaway was last seen on Concord Street Monday afternoon, at the entrance to his gravel pit - presumably just at the same time that the court was issuing the restraining orders.

No. Reading Protest

The gravel war flared into a near-violence stage, last Saturday, at the North Reading - Wilmington line on Concord Street.

A crowd of North Reading residents, reported by some sources to be about 100, but by Chief of Police Paul Lynch of Wilmington to be about 20, attempted to stop gravel operations of Stephen Hathaway, of Lynn, who is removing gravel from near the No. Reading - Wilmington town line.

Hathaway, operator of the pit on Salem Street which is now a lake of about 10 acres in area attempted to move in to what the North Reading people declared was North Reading property, between Concord and Redmond Streets, in North Reading.

Wilmington residents who know the area declare that he was operating entirely in Wilmington, and one of them says that the property in which he is operating is that of Ernest Eames, for which a permit was denied by the Wilmington Board of Appeals, last spring.

Hathaway was declared to have stated to Selectmen Malcolm MacRae and Paul Ryan of No. Reading that he was working in 'The Dunn Land in Wilmington'.

George Dunn, of Wakefield owns two acres of land in Wilmington, and 53 in No. Reading both lots being contiguous. Last spring he opposed a move by Campanella & Cardini to operate on his property, before the Wilmington Board of Appeals, and later opposed a similar move to operate on his No. Reading territory, before No. Reading officials. Both cases were turned down, by the two towns.

Selectman Frank Hagerty of Wilmington was called, while there was discussion as to whether operations were in No. Reading or Wilmington.

Chief of Police Paul Lynch arrived to find Officer Cail in charge. Cail had been attempting to have some of the No. Reading residents stop obstructing the road from the gravel pit, according to Lynch. He was reinforced by a State Trooper, who also told the No. Reading people to stop obstructing traffic.

Lynch reported talking with a person whom he judged to be the leader, and telling him to 'move on'. This person, according to Lynch, replied that he was only 'watching the trucks', whereupon Lynch told him that if he was still there when the fourth truck came he would not be there when the fifth one arrived. It was about this time, according to Lynch, that someone addressed him as 'Chief' and the No. Reading man, realizing he was talking with the Wilmington Chief of Police, moved on.

Lynch also described a woman as making 'a U turn with her car' in front of the gravel trucks.

The operations at the present time are about a half mile in from Concord Street, much farther than they have ever been in the past. According to one report Hathaway is basing his moves on the belief that the Wilmington & No. Reading governments denied the right to excavate gravel to Campanella & Cardini, and did not address their denial to Hathaway.

The operations, using about 25 trucks, none of which are Campanella & Cardini, began Friday morning, but some residents of Concord Street, in Wilmington report that they had been operating 'all week'.

'The trucks arrive at about six in the morning' one resident told the Town Crier, and added 'they make an awful noise, waking up everybody'.

The gravel operations stopped at 3 pm Saturday, and then resumed Monday morning. State Motor Vehicle Inspectors observed the operations part of the day, Monday, watching, it was believed, for overloading or other motor vehicle violations.

Among those who were at the scene Saturday was Town Counsel Arthur S. Drinkwater of North Reading. He is not related to the John Drinkwater who is operating gravel pits in the area.

The afternoon session will begin at 12:20 pm and end at 4:30 pm.

WILMINGTON SCHOOLS HAVE BEEN UPGRADED TO COMPLY WITH NEW FIRE LAWS

Wilmington's public school buildings have had extensive changes in fire prevention during the past summer, so as to bring all buildings up to the specifications of the new fire laws of the Commonwealth, made as a result of the Chicago fire last year.

In the Mildred Rogers, Center Walker and Whitefield Schools there has been extensive replacing of locks and glass.

All fire safety doors are now equipped with safety locks so that they may now be opened from either side without a key. All glass in the safety doors has been replaced with shatter proof glass. The glass is a quarter of an inch thick, with a polished wire re-inforcing.

New fire alarm systems are practically ready, just waiting for the installation of control panels which are supposed to be installed this weekend. The panel is intended to connect the local control station with the Wilmington Fire Department Station on Church Street.

The detectors are supposed to react to any smoke or flame.

Only Part of Job

The work of installing the new anti-fire features is only a part of the summer work completed by the maintenance Department of the Wilmington School this year.

Every wooden floor, in every building has been scraped, re-sealed and waxed.

All floors in the High School 54 of them, have been washed and waxed. Two men worked nights during the summer to accomplish this, starting at 3:30 PM and ending at 11:30 PM. The idea being to be sure that no one would walk on the floor after waxing, before it had a chance to dry.

About one hundred windows have had to have new panes of glass - broken by children during the summer.

A new ventilating system has been installed in the basement of the Wildwood School, to insure a change of air. Floors had been rotting, before, and for two summers the maintenance Department has been busy replacing wood and materials.

An 18 inch fan, now installed is believed to have the troubles solved.

All the schools have had extensive repainting. Everything will be ready for the children when the schools open next Wednesday.

REPAIRING BROKEN WINDOWS

Preliminary talks only were held. No decisions were made.

LETTER

August 29, 1959

Dear Sir:

It is a sad commentary on the state of law enforcement in this town when we worry about the Ford advertising sign being a few feet outside the regulations and ignore the well-known local bookie joint!

Sincerely yours,

PERMANENT BUILDING SHIFTS MEETING NIGHTS TO THURSDAYS

The Permanent Building Committee has transferred its regular weekly meeting night from Tuesday to Thursday, in order that interested members of other committees may better attend.

The next meeting will be on September 10th.

SAM CAVALLARO DID NOT GET HOME

Cadet Second Class Sam Cavallaro, USCG, did not get home to visit his folks on Grove Avenue, even though the ship on which he was serving, the USS Eagle, paid a short call to Boston, last Saturday.

The Coast Guard training ship called at Boston with the body of one of the cadets, who had been killed when he fell from the yardarm. The ship put to sea immediately afterwards, to resume its training cruise.

"OUR LEADER"

The hearty burst of laughter from Phil LeBuc (center) is because his partners, Bill Simmons of Forest Ave and Charley McCann of Jere Road have dubbed him 'Our Leader'.

The three men are the committee in charge of the V. F. W. Labor Day Block Dance, at the Weinberg parking lot. A large crowd is expected to attend the party.

LIBRARY NOTES

This is an appeal to those of you who have borrowed books and, in spite of many reminders, have failed to return them. Rarely does the Library own more than one copy of a book as it is better to have as many books as possible—current fiction, biography, history, travel, science, etc. When one person borrows a book and keeps it weeks, months, and sometimes even a year past the due date, that person is depriving all the other borrowers of its use and enjoyment. The cost of replacing a book ranges from two dollars to ten depending on whether it is light fiction or a recent science book. Notices are usually sent when a book is two weeks overdue and periodically thereafter. Telephone calls also are made in an effort to have the book returned. If you feel embarrassed about delivering the books in person when they are so long past due, you may put them through the letter slot in the door at any time of day or night, any day of the week, if they will slip through the opening without forcing. Most of them will. Do please return the books. We need them for circulation.

NANCY REID BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Nancy Reid, daughter of Mr and Mrs James M. Reid of 216 Lowell Street became the bride of Howard Ronald Whitman son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitman of Somerville, on August 22nd, in a 3 pm ceremony in the Methodist Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chiffon gown, with a fitted long sleeve jacket of white silk brocade. She carried a bouquet of white lilies, and wore a wreath of fresh garden flowers.

Miss Jo-Anne Reid, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She was in champagne organza, and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

The Best Man was Mr. Joseph Wormsley of Somerville. The Rev. Richard Harding of the Wilmington Methodist was the clergyman.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the old Swain-Gowing house on Lowell Street.

Mrs. Reid chose a powder blue lace costume, with an orchid corsage, to wear in the reception line, while the mother of the groom wore a dusty pink chiffon gown, with a corsage of American Beauty roses.

The newly married couple left for New York, where they embarked on the French liner Liberte for a five week honeymoon in Europe, during which they will visit Paris, Rome, London and Madrid. They intend to return home by plane.

The bride was a member of the Class of 1951, Wilmington High School, and graduated from Simmons College in 1955. She has been employed at the Itek Corp. in Lexington, as a librarian.

Her husband, a Vice President of the Dynamics Research Corp. of Woburn, graduated from MIT in 1951, and received his Master's Degree in Electrical Engineering in 1954.

The couple will make their home on Woburn Street, next to her mother's home.

MR AND MRS ROGER MILLS*LORRAINE WHITE BECOMES BRIDE OF ROGER MILLS

Miss Lorraine Nickerson White daughter of Mr and Mrs Stanley R. White, of Roosevelt Road became the bride of Roger Holt Mills, son of Mr and Mrs Leslie T. Mills of Ferguson Road, in a Saturday evening candlelight service, on August 29th, in the Wilmington Methodist Church.

A double ring ceremony was used. The Rev. Richard Harding of the Wilmington Methodist Church officiated, assisted by the Rev. Richard MacFarland.

The church altar was decorated with gladioli for the ceremony.

Miss Flora Mardigan, of Everett, the soloist, sang 'I Love You Truly' and 'The Lord's Prayer'. The organist was Mrs. Wilbur Staveley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace with tiers of lace and nylon tulle, and had a chapel train. Elbow length illusion veil was held in place by a crown of lace and pearls. She carried a white Bible, covered with tiny white asters centered with an orchid.

The Maid of Honor was Miss Patricia White, sister of the bride, and the Bridesmaids were Miss Georgia Nickerson and Mrs. Phillip Malloy, both cousins of the bride, and both of Somerville.

The Maid of Honor wore a pink silk organza over pink taffeta and net gown, and the bridesmaids wore similar gowns of turquoise silk organza over turquoise taffeta and net.

Matching hats and veils completed their costumes, and they carried Colonial bouquets. Mr. William Drisko of South Portland, Maine, was the Best Man. The Ushers were Mr. Robert E. Bowley of North Saco, Maine, and Mr. Kenneth A. Dutton Jr., of North Windham, Maine, both brothers in law of the groom.

A reception was held in the vestry of the church. For her gown in the reception line the bride's mother chose blue organza silk with matching accessories, while Mrs. Mills wore a Dusty Rose net gown with matching accessories. Both wore white orchids.

The bride chose, for her going away costume, a green and blue plaid two piece dress with matching accessories, and wore an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip through the Mohawk Trail and the mountains of New Hampshire and Maine the new couple will make their home in Melrose.

The bride is a graduate of Wilmington High School, Class of 1953. She is a Past Worthy Advisor of the Wilmington Assembly of Rainbow Girls, and a member of the Older Youth Group of the Wilmington Methodist Church, and has been employed by the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, in Boston.
